Paradise Friendly Home Means Just That To 21 Children Who Did Not Have A Home

By JIM DUMAS
Through the dictionary we connect the word paradise with the "Garden of Eden," but for most of us the conception of the term ceases with that comparison.

But many of God's children are different and a fortunate few have learned to appreciate the word in its true light of happiness and goodness. And they have the experience; one of a homeless and bitter background engulfed by utter darkness and wantonness.

Twenty-one of God's children whose poverty covered six states, will smile and tell you they have found their Garden of Eden, and it's just 15 miles from Murray.

Because of someone who believed in the welfare of them and countless others like them, who through no fault of their own were not blessed with the affection of "home" nor realized the purpose of a church or a school, they have found the opportunity to grow into Christian men and women and compete in a civilized world.

When they came to live with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Murdock at Paradise Friendly Home, three miles south of Tri-City on the Mayfield-Paris Highway, they realized the fulfillment of their dreams; a home, a community, a church, a school and a chance to lead an independent life.

Mr. Murdock gained the answer to his ambitions too; after 25 years he could fully devote his time to a project which he has long participated in, providing a home for some of the 250,000 homeless children in the United States. "If society doesn't take care of these children they turn to crime," he said.

The sincere soft-spoken farmer and community leader probably knows how a fatherless boy feels to be kicked around, unwanted. His father died when he too was very young, causing him to follow the "rocky-road" of life. Murdock, through hard work and patience, was able to obtain his B.S. degree at Murray State College in 1932. He is married to the former Thelma Flint, also a Murray graduate.

Murdock, a member of the Bell City Church of Christ, was assisted by the church in constructing a two-story dormitory styled building beside his home and in September of 1955, received his first children, quickly reaching the capacity of the home and creating the need for ample space.

A new dormitory is being built within the 7 acres owned by the Bell City Church to accommodate a total of 36 children for the entire home. All but 5 of the children, whose age range from 3-17 years, are boys. Several are brothers and sisters who are natives of Arkansas, Mississippi, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Kentucky and Michigan.

The group picture above shows most of the present occupants of Paradise Friendly Home. Ages range from three to seventeen years.

Lynn Grove Dominates L&T Team

Champion Lynn Grove dominates the Ledger & Times All-County Basketball team with three of its players receiving a star vote from the sports writers.

The Wildcats easy victory over Murray Training in the championship finals Saturday did not indicate the tense moments portrayed by all six participants in their all out bids for the crown. Past records meant nothing as only Lynn Grove could maintain its superiority over its foes, and they were pressed to the wire by Hazel and Almo.

The champion "Cats, however, had to be at its peak to get by both, finding themselves trailing most of the two games. The Murray Training and Kirksey semi-final thriller was easily the best game seen in the MSC Sports Arena this season. It's true that each made fatal errors in those frantic overtimes, but two fine players showed their coolness under pressure to the utmost. The fans saw quickly as did the other players that the Colt's Billy Rogers and Red Darnell, the Kirksey sensation, were not to be taken from any play.

The Almo Warriors, the third place winners, are voted the tourney's most "courageous." The hard luck Almo five which entered the tournament minus Peeler one of its standouts, came as close as any county team this season to stopping Lynn Grove. The next night three of its regulars, including high scoring guard Bob Pritchett, were benched for rules violation. But the amazing Warriors completed, taking the starch out of Kirksey in the consolation, as the substitutes did more than replace their first stringers.

Darnell, with 82 points was the scoring leader for the three night tournament, but Tommy McNeely of the champs receives the most of its standouts, came as close as any county team this season to stopping Lynn Grove. The next night three of its regulars, including high scoring guard Bob Pritchett, were benched for rules violation. But the amazing Warriors completed, taking the starch out of Kirksey in the consolation, as the substitutes did more than replace their first stringers.

The Lynn Grove team are chosen the best sports while Almo is named most improved. First Team: Rob Darnell, Kirksey; Tommy McNeely, Lynn Grove; Billy Rogers, Murray Training; Steve Paschall, Lynn Grove. Second Team: Rodney Warren, Lynn Grove; Bob Pritchett, Almo; Billy Buchanan, New Concord; Bob Suter, Murray Training; Ted Lovett, Almo.

OUTWITTED HANGMAN

CHELSEA, Vt. — Mrs. Rebecca Peak, sentenced to death here in 1936 for the poison murder of her stepson, used a novel method to cheat the gallows, for several nights prior to the execution day, she was allowed small doses of opium because she complained she could not sleep. ## Mrs. Routon Asks A Favor Of Friends

Word was received today in Murray from Mrs. S. J. Routon of Paris, Tennessee asking a favor of her many friends in Calloway County as well as her native Henry County in Tennessee.

"Mrs. Pearl" as she is fondly called by her host of friends, was a recent guest on the Ralph Edwards "This Is Your Life" television show. The show is seen weekly on a coast to coast television net work.

She possesses many fine qualities which were the cause of her being selected as guest of honor on this highly popular show. She is a most thoughtful, unselfish person who has befriended many people who have come to know and love her during her busy life as a florist.

She has often made extreme sacrifices on the part of herself personally and her family in order to help someone else in an hour of need. She received many wonderful gifts on the program including a gold charm bracelet, a new sign for her flower shop and a new car.

One of Mrs. Routon's sons, Joe, is a graduate of Murray State College and was very popular in Murray during the years he was in college here. He and his wife, Virginia, and their family made their home in Yet Vile while Joe was in school. He is now associated with his mother in the nursery and florist business.

To get back to the favor which Mrs. Pearl is asking of her friends, she says she has received hundreds of cards, letters and telephone calls, and she appreciates them more than she can say. She has said, however, (Continued On Page Five.)

Girl's Dormitory At College Is Now 98 Per Cent Complete

Work on Woods Hall, new women's dormitory at Murray State College, is 98 percent complete, according to the construction superintendent, Mr. Rex Huie.

The dormitory will be ready in time for the expected March first move-in day if the fabricators of the closet doors deliver them soon enough and in sufficient quantity, said the superintendent.

Other minor jobs remaining are not expected to take more than two weeks, so everything depends upon the door supplier, he said.

Interior work not completed so far is mainly in the lobby area where a general office is being prepared to take care of students, visitors and messages.

When the contractor, O'Brien and Padgett, finishes the college will install venetian blinds in every room and move in all new furniture which has been purchased for the building.

The new dormitory is a three wing masonry type building fronting on Olive boulevard and 14th street. It has a core of concrete blocks and is faced with brick on the outside.

Floors are concrete with asphalt tile surfaces. Hallways are surfaced in terrazo, stairways are metal. Window frames are aluminum, with crank-out type french windows on each side of a picture window. Window sills are marble.

Door frames and doors are metal, with closet shelves and clothes poles constituting about the only wood in the building aside from some paneling in the lobby.

As one goes down the hall one sees a room painted in yellow, one in pink, and one in blue, then the same sequence again and again.

Halls are painted green, except in the central portion where they are brown.

Each room has a six foot closet for each girl, and in addition there is a lavatory. Furniture will be light finish modern with hard-surface tops to eliminate damage.

Girls will be able to get their mail at the dormitory as 230 postal boxes have been provided. They will be presorted off the college postoffice.

Each floor of each wing has a centrally located bathroom with stall showers, lavatories, a tub, and other facilities including a dressing room. The bathrooms are in ceramic tile, shower stalls are marble.

An apartment is provided on each floor for the house director of that floor. Each director has a sitting room with a kitchenette, (Continued On Page Five.)

CONTROLLING FLOODS

So much is said nowadays about production and distribution of electricity by the Tennessee Valley Authority we sometimes forget why the Tennessee River was developed from its tributaries in the mountains of North Carolina and East Tennessee to its mouth at Paducah.

The United States Army Engineers were making surveys on the Tennessee River long before there was any consideration given to electricity. They were interested in controlling floods in a river valley where destruction had been the greatest for two hundred years.

Last week's floods caused damage estimated at a billion dollars in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia but the people of the Tennessee Valley where the Tennessee River would have been two feet higher than during any former disastrous flood escaped with little, if any, property loss, or loss of life.

Not only were the TVA dams capable of controlling the flood waters until all the lakes were full and ready to overflow, but the gates at Watts Bar were purposely closed so that the excess water poured out of the river banks at the foot of Lookout Mountain at Chattanooga and flooded a large area around Rossville, Georgia, without loss, and thereby saved a large residential area.

In view of the damage the floods could have caused we believe the people of the entire nation should take a new look at TVA. We are told that two of the hardest hit cities in the state would have been Oak Ridge and Clinton if there had been no TVA dam at Norris, Tennessee, which was protected by a dozen dams upstream where flood waters were held in check.

And while we are looking at TVA as a flood control project we might consider that the taxpayers have more money invested at Oak Ridge than they have in the entire TVA system. Also we think it is about time to shout from the house-tops that the Atomic Energy Commission alone is consuming more than half of all the electricity produced and distributed by the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The Decatur (Alabama) Daily is advocating something entirely new for TVA. Since the Eisenhower Administration seems unwilling to expand the agency fast enough to meet increasing demand for power the Daily thinks it would be a good idea for the seven states served by the agency to buy it outright.

If production and distribution of electricity were the only functions of the agency such an arrangement might be wise. That is, if some arrangement were made for the federal government to supply the needs of the AEC outside the TVA system.

Production and distribution of electricity are not the only functions of the agency, of course, as last week's floods have demonstrated. Nor can we conceive of a way the security needs of AEC can be met by individual states.

Our superiority in development and production of nuclear weapons was made possible by TVA. At no place on earth could an atomic energy plant have been built and started producing the ingredients of atomic bombs as fast as in the Tennessee Valley, simply because at the time it was built there was a vast reservoir of cheap electricity in East Tennessee, hence it was located at Oak Ridge. The plant at Paducah was located there for the same reason after Kentucky Dam was finished.

Of course cheap electricity is important, but it is a mistake for advocates of the Tennessee Valley Authority to permit the private power industry to make it appear that it is the only reason for its existence, or even the chief reason. For the truth is that regardless of how important electricity has become it is still a side-line so far as TVA is concerned.

The system of locks and dams on the Tennessee River were built to control floods, to conserve soil over an area which covers parts of seven states, to increase timber production, to manufacture fertilizer, to give the South river transportation, and to provide recreational facilities available to more than a third of the nation's population.

We don't believe the Eisenhower Administration will hamper the operation of TVA, despite its pronounced leaning to private enterprise. We deplore the fact it is not supporting the move for a self-financing plan for TVA, also that it has opposed appropriations for new installations to meet the rapidly increasing demand for electricity.

The Tennessee Valley Authority has been a blessing to the people of the United States because it is located in the Tennessee Valley. To say it is purely a regional development is untrue. As the power producer for the Atomic Energy Commission TVA is the nation's Number One defense installation.

And every effort made to destroy, or hamper, it is an effort to undermine the nation's security. In fact we could better survive the destruction of the USS Sagatoga than the wrecking, or even the crippling, of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Ted Williams Wraps Up 1957 Contract

BOSTON — Ted Williams interrupted a $1,000-a-day fishing exhibition today to reel in his seventh $100,000 contract with the Boston Red Sox.

Signing of the 38-year-old slugger to the highest player salary in baseball was scheduled to be announced at a news conference this morning with General Manager Joe Cronin.

The darkly-tanned Williams, in town as a feature attraction of a local sportsman's show, was a communicative about the terms of his 1957 contract on the eve of signing as he was about his broken romance with New York actress Nelva More.

There were reports that Williams, who said he would at least duplicate this year the 24 homers he hit in 1956 and start in 100 games, would ask for a $5,000 raise to pay for the splitting incident fine levied by owner Tom Yawkey last summer. There also was speculation that the Red Sox might ask Williams to take a slight pay cut. However, the contract was expected to be approximately the same as last year.

This will be the 18th season with Boston for Williams, who was out three years during World War II and missed parts of the 1952 and 1953 seasons while serving in the Marine's during the Korean War. His lifetime batting average in 6,293 trips to the plate is .348. He has hit 418 home runs and driven in 1,552 runs.

Elsewhere in contract action, shortstop Eddie Bressoud, a right-handed pitcher, signed with the New York Giants bringing their satisfied list to 29. Bressoud hit 227 in 50 games for the Giants last season while Rodriguez had a 12-8 record with Dallas of the Texas League.

Big Leaguers Fall Into Line As Spring Training Near

With spring training only a month away, big league players were beginning to fall into line in wholesale numbers today.

The Washington Senators, for example, announced the signing of six players at one clip today. Cleveland and Kansas City three.

Outfielder Ken Olson, pitcher Bucky Stewart and Dick Hyde and infielders Jerry Snyder, Lyle Luttrell and Waldo Gonzalez were the Senators' signings while infielders George Strickland and Kenny Kuhn and outfielder Stu Locklin agreed to terms with the Indians.

Sugar Ray To Correct Mistakes

CHICAGO — Sugar Ray Robinson, aging but stubborn, said he planned to "correct" some self-admitted mistakes in the fight in which he lost the middleweight title to Gene Fullmer and the correcting would be done at Fullmer's expense.

Sugar Ray's outline of his plans for Fullmer followed an announcement Thursday by James D. Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, that the two would meet April 21 in the Chicago Stadium.

Norris said he had arranged the bout, which will give Robinson a chance to take the middleweight title for the fourth time, in a telephone talk with Fullmer's manager, Marvin Jensen, at the champion's home in West Jordan, Utah.

In the return match, Fullmer and Robinson each will get 30 per cent of the net gate, plus receipts from radio and television broadcasts on the regular Wednesday night fight program. It was estimated that the TV fee would reach about $100,000.

Get By Some Tough Squads To Reach Present Top Spot

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

It seemed that Coach Frank McGuire's gloomy forecast of "three or four defeats" for his top-ranked North Carolina basketball was starting to come true.

But instead, surviving their biggest scare so far this season, McGuire's Tar Heels rallied Tuesday night to beat Maryland, 65-61, in a double overtime game at College Park, Md., and remain today as the nation's only unbeaten major college team with a mark of 17-0.

Tommy Kearns saved Carolina's bacon in the regulation time when his last-minute basket produced a tie and Lenny Rosenblyth sparked the Tar Heels in the two extra sessions to take scoring honors for the game with 25 points.

As a result, North Carolina now stands seven games away from finishing the regular season unbeaten. The Tar Heels also built their lead in the Atlantic Coast Conference race to two full games over Wake Forest and Duke which it faces next on Saturday night.

Duke Rips Pitt
Duke served notice on North Carolina that it will be tough on Saturday as it ripped Pittsburgh, 90-72. The Blue Devils hit 49 per cent of their first-half shots for a 43-31 edge and the subs carried it for much of the second half as Jim Newcome took scoring honors with 20 points.

Southern Methodist, the nation's No. 4 team, had none of Carolina's trouble as it successfully defended its hold on the first place in the Southwest Conference with an 83-76 victory over Baylor. A loss would have dropped the Mustangs into a tie with Baylor for the lead, but they sank 35 of 39 free throws.

Boy Scouts Mark 47th Birthday

OFFICIAL BOY SCOUT WEEK POSTER
More than 4,500,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders throughout the nation will observe Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 47th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America.
Since 1910, Scouting has served over 26,000,000 boys and adult leaders.
Through its Four-Year Program, "Onward for God and My Country," the organization seeks to train more boys in patriotism and character so that they will become intelligent citizens with an appreciation of the free way of life and a dedication to high spiritual ideals.
Boy Scout Week observances will feature preparation for the Fourth National Jamboree, which will find 50,000 Scouts and leaders camping where Washington camped at historic Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, next July 12 to 18. The nation's 111,000 Scout units will feature rededication ceremonies on February 8, the actual birthday of Scouting in America.

A GUIDED MISSILE THAT CAN BE BROUGHT BACK

THESE FIRST PHOTOS of North American Aviation's new X-10 unmanned test vehicle for USAF show it rising on takeoff, in flight, and touching down in a landing braked by parachute. The craft is a test vehicle for the SM-64 Navaho intercontinental strategic guided missile program. The X-10's testing has been completed at flight test center in Florida. It has been flown at high supersonic speeds to prove out its aerodynamic design and guidance control system. The X-10 is a long range type surface-to-surface missile powered by two turbojet engines and has landing gear so it can be recovered for re-use.

Leaders And Parents To Be Recognized By The Boy Scouts

During Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12, marking the 47th anniversary of the B-S Scouts of America, the organization will set one day aside as "Recognition Day."

In countless communities throughout the nation, Scouts, their parents, local institutions and public officials will pay tribute to the leaders of the 111,000 Cub packs, Boy Scout troops and Explorer units for the contribution they are making to the boyhood of America.

"Recognition Day will be an occasion to thank all who were involved in the 1956 Get-Out-the-Vote Good Turn," says Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive of the Boy Scouts of America.

"We are extremely proud," he said, "of our Get-Out-the-Vote program last Fall in which every local council participated in such a magnificent manner. The tremendous task of distributing over one and a quarter million posters and thirty-seven million Liberty Bell doorknobs hangers fulfilled a responsibility of vital importance to our country."

FREE WASH ON THIS HIGHWAY

MOTORISTS GET a free wash on this highway, which runs under a cataract in a stretch between Bogota and Manizales, Colombia. Engineers working on Colombia's 6,000-mile, $400,000,000 highway program were confronted with problem of either going over or under the falls. Then they decided to do it the easy way—go right through it. The stream will be diverted. (International)

IF EVE HADN'T KNOWN WASHINGTON — Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) thinks the earth would be unpopulated if Eve had been as ignorant about fruit trees as the senator claims President Eisenhower is. Kerr said he "was amazed to read" that the President, during his recent tour of the nation's drought area, "mistook a peach tree for an apple tree." "Now that is really an ignorance of fundamentals," Kerr said. "Just think, if Eve hadn't known the difference between an apple and a peach, what a barren world this would be."

A FINE FIX NEWARK, N. J. — Sidney Richman Friday drove downtown to pay a $2 traffic ticket. He double-parked when he couldn't find a spot and rushed into court to pay his fine. When he returned he found a $5 ticket parked under his windshield wiper.

ice in the 1956 Get-Out-the-Vote Campaign—Boy Scouts of America and Freedoms Foundation—Onward for God and My Country." The Boy Scouts of America, Dr. Schuck points out, is operated by 1,198,843 adult volunteer leaders with the help and assistance of a small professional staff of 3,157 leaders. Men come forward in increasing numbers, he said, to give their best in the service of youth. Without them, he states, there could be no Scout program. Because of them, over 3,300,000 boys today enjoy the adventure of Scouting, which has become a part of American life.

Scouting attracts for its volunteer leadership positions men of education, as well as men of character with an educational and occupational background well above the national average. Only men of good character are accepted for these leadership positions.

A study of personal data of volunteer leaders in all capacities shows that more than 60 per cent were once Scouts. A like number were high school graduates and 30 per cent finished college.

Among the Scout leaders 86 per cent are married men and 61 per cent have sons. A high percentage are active members in fraternal, service, or veterans groups.

On a check of occupations, 25 per cent were professional or technical workers, including lawyers, teachers and physicians. Another 20 per cent are craftsmen and foremen; 10 per cent are public officials, buyers, credit men, managers and proprietors of small businesses, while another 10 per cent are sales persons or engaged in advertising or insurance. The remainder are in scattered occupations.

Men serve because of a personal interest brought about through their contacts with boys; others because of friendship with men already leaders; or, because of their affiliation with a local institution that sponsors a Scout unit.

Personal Diplomacy To Remain Trademark Of Administration

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — Personal diplomacy will remain the trademark of Eisenhower administration foreign policy despite the slights served up by New York City and state to the President's current guest.

Mr. Eisenhower told a recent news conference that negotiations were going on to bring an un-stated number of prime ministers or heads of states to Washington after the visit of King Saud, who arrived last month.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is among these. There has been no indication from the White House nor the State Department that political or other opposition to Tito would cause the invitation to be withdrawn. Belgrade dispatches, however, have indicated doubt in Tito's mind whether he would accept an invitation to the United States under conditions now prevailing.

Report Is Regarded As Favorable

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor
NEW YORK — Wall Street regarded the 1956 report of the U. S. Steel Corporation as favorable for the steel industry.

Traders said it allayed fears of a sharp drop in steel output in the second quarter as had been heralded in recent markets as a factor putting pressure on steel shares.

Also, the report was favorably impressed with the dividend hike to 75 cents a share from 65 cents. The payout of Big Steel of around 50 per cent isn't considered as corporate practice goes but is about all that the trading element anticipated from a company ploughing back earnings into the business on a big scale.

Wall Street Pleased
The Street was pleased that Roger Blough, U. S. Steel chairman, said his company has no plans for a general price boost at this time. A price hike, market men said, would only bring investigations and upset a lot of apples.

Blough didn't seem to be half as pessimistic as some Wall Streeters recently on second quarter steel operations.

He said there might be some moderation in demand for delivery in the second quarter but that it will be a very good quarter for U. S. Steel and the entire industry.

Reduction in demand for auto steel is being offset just now by demands for plate and structural steel, Blough said.

With few exceptions, Blough said, the supply of steel is just about adequate to satisfy current demand of steel consumers.

Expect Other Demands
There will be other demands coming up in the not distant future, one of which is road building which is going to use a lot of steel. Not long ago the experts were worrying over whether or not the road program could be as planned because of the steel supply situation.

that an invitation from the President of the United States was equally in the name of the people of the United States. On that line of reasoning, all hands are co-hosts to a Presidential guest, the mayor of New York City and the governor of New York state equally with the meaneast citizen in their city or state.

Mr. Eisenhower estimated recently that 43 or more chiefs of states or governments or highly representatives of the same have dealt with him in the past four years. Meantime, Mr. Eisenhower has

Astronomer To Study Illuminated Clouds

IOWA CITY — Hugh M. Johnson, University of Iowa astronomer, is making an intensive study of the illuminated clouds that are formed between the stars in the universe.

A $3,700 grant from the National Science Foundation will help finance the study.

Johnson, an assistant professor of astronomy, said the clouds he will study are made up of rare gases and dust and are illumination. Most previous studies of brightness by astronomers have dealt with the stars rather than the interstellar clouds, Johnson said.

WEATHER NOT VERY PEACHY

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Sunny Southern California wasn't sunny this week. Snow, frozen ground and cloudy skies forced film makers to cancel outdoor location scenes which were supposed to depict Georgia in summer.

MIDDLE EAST OIL MILLIONS

BEHIND a good deal of the Middle East strife and tension are oil royalties, and the vital supply of oil itself, of course. This map shows where more than a billion dollars in oil royalties went in Middle East in 1956.

dispatched Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on world tours and sorties which have placed him among the most travelled of men.

That is the way the President intends to continue to play it, with the occasional substitution of Vice President Richard M. Nixon as his traveling representative. Mr. Eisenhower feels that his own constitutional position is such that it is simpler for the world's big men to come to him than for him to go to them.

On the path of personal diplomacy, Mr. Eisenhower is in the footsteps of some of his notable predecessors whose personal diplomacy was not always notably successful.

Woodrow Wilson enjoyed an unexampled personal triumph when he visited Europe after World War I to help draft the peace treaty and to organize the League of Nations. Mr. Wilson's triumph was limited to Europe, however. The United States never ratified the treaty nor did it join the league.

Others Comparative Homebodies
Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover were comparative homebodies; the collapse of Wilson's political fortunes after an adventure overseas having persued them against any such. Mr. Hoover, however, made naval disarmament his personal project and received in Washington Ramsay MacDonald, the British prime minister, prior to the 1930 London arms conferences.

If personal diplomacy had not already been invented, Franklin D. Roosevelt doubtless would have come up with it. It was a method well suited to FDR's ideas and to his personality. The war-time Roosevelt - Churchill meetings were effective propaganda bomb shells which directly helped to win the war. There is a considerable body of opinion, however, convinced that FDR's luck ran out when he and the British Prime Minister sat at Yalta with Josef Stalin.

Mr. Eisenhower accepts the hazards of the game and will continue to play it although, on the basis of the record to date, the odds are against a U.S. president who thus deals himself in.
